

YOU asked..... WE answered!

“How are the Corn Cob Queen candidates selected and who have been past Queens?”

We answered: This now annual event was started by a committee member’s idea in 2009 and we thought would generate some interest as well as go along with our annual event. Nominations are currently being taken for any Gladbrook female over the age of 18 to be a candidate to rein over the 2017 Corn Carnival. These nominations can be given to either Jeanne Paustian or Rose Russell. By June 1st, they will have a drawing of all those nominated who agree to participate as they try to get the candidate field down to 4 or 5 deserving ladies. Then buckets are placed in Hometown Foods and the Gladbrook Theatre so that voting is done via the change or bills placed in that individual’s bucket. The winner will receive some really nice prizes as well as a convertible ride through the Grand Parade on Friday night. Great Fun!!

Past Gladbrook Corn Carnival Queens are:
2009 – Sara DeBerg & Marlene Wiebensohn
2010 – Dave Wurr
2011 – Rose Russell
2012 – Jodi Betts
2013 – Sheresa Lynch
2014 – Deb Osborn
2015 – Tandi Davis
2016 – Jackie Stephenson
2017 – Could it be you??
